Propaganda --

Berlin (27 April 1907) -- Rumors long rife have finally been confirmed. The conference between emissaries of the Reich and the French Government have broken off with no agreement in sight. Reports have already begun to come in of French actions against German troops.

Munich (16 September 1907) -- The All-Highest, Kaiser Eduard I today informed the High Command of the Western Armies that they are to fight to the death, and are not to give up an inch of German soil to the French. "While this victory may end with the French being the dominant military force in Europe", the Kaiser declared, "it will be at least another three years before the war will again be within sight of its end." #### The Kaiser publicly regretted that the late French Ambassador to the Peace Talks was assassinated before he could return to his nation. His ashes were shipped home, in the shell from a coast defense gun, mounted in Holland.

PUC (Continued) --

Propaganda -- England -- Germany: I'm awaiting your word, Marge!!!

Rome -- Italy is glad to extend a hand of friendship to all who desire peace.

Ravenna -- The Italian ambassador extraordinaire has returned from a two-year search thry Austria for the ruler of that country. His results seem to indicate that the ruler is a mythical figure and that ceuntry moves on dead inertia.

NSG -- William the 1st of France is not to be trusted. (This was addressed to WORLD.)

NSG -- Austria-Hungary: I sure could use that alliance now.

NSG -- France: Nur nicht die Ubersicht verlieren. Wenn wenig zeit hatte man musse Er das zeit richtig nutzen.

Propaganda --

Athens (7 April 1907) -- Great rejoicing filled the air as troops of the Italian Seventh Army marched into town to take over from the corrupt management of the Austro-Hungarian empire. It is expected that His Majesty will authorize several million Liro to rebuild the historical monuments of the nation, many of which were destroyed or removed during the long Austro-Hungarian occupation. It is also understood, but not confirmed, that the country will benefit from large stocks of men and material moving in to launch the attack on the occupied state of Serbia.

Berlin -- Moscow: We will consider peace after the German-speaking peoples of Moscow and Warsaw are liberated. I think you should have eliminated Fleet Finland, Buddy.

Berlin -- Rome: Ed, if this could have been avoided, it would have been, but with a long war being a certainty if I did as you wished, and with the angry anti-war sentiments at home, I've decided that a Pax-Germana is in order.

Berlin -- Vienna: As my fellow Germanic nation, I expect that you will follow the guidelines of our treaty and profit thereby.

Moscow -- Georgo, you'll be sorry when you play at my house this summer. (Toll him, Larry.) Leave me in the game, and I will take out Austria with you -- and Italy (sorry; Ed).

Venice (2 February 1907) -- Troops of the Imperial Eighth Army today began filing into town, to prepare its defenses for the expected breach of peace by the Austrians. Following insults delivered by the so-called "Council of Vienna", Our Ambassador was barely able to escape with his life, leaving behind much personal property. His Majesty, Victorio Eduardo, has declared the Italian military will look into the matter, and has ordered the Italian field forces to cooperate fully with the Ambassador. It is expected that help will be obtained from Germany, as the Kaiser has expressed his shock and sympathy that such demonstrations should be found in a supposedly civilized nation.

Deadline for SUM'07 retreats (A-H: F Gro, A Rum) and F'07 moves -- Noon, Tues., August 19.

PWC (Regular Diplomacy Game #16) -- RUSSIA INCREASES LEAD OVER TURKEY IN RACE FOR CONTROL OF EUROPE!

DCA (Game of Anonymity #2) -- LULL IN FIGHTING, BUT WAR OF WORDS CONTINUES!

SUMMER, 1910 Propaganda --

France -- England: All of Russia is yours. Let us talk about the rest. Move F Por to Spa(SC) next turn; also F Lon to the Channel.

Italy -- Anyone: One army for rent. Price: Survival. First offer will be accepted. Reply requested.

London -- France: If you're still there, get with it. If someone else is there, shall we continue as before?

London -- Russia: Poor fool; I hate to tell you this, but my agreement with Franco implies that I come in second. I'm happy. Second is one hell of a lot better than you're going to come out.

Russia -- England: I appeal to you to resist the temptation to take St. Petersburg and go for the big baby instead!

Russia -- Turkey: I am going for Rumania, for it looks like I lose St. Pete again! (Oops!) SUMMER, 1910 retreat -- FRA: F Ion (R) Nap.

Deadline for F'10 moves & Prop. -- Noon, Tues., August 5.

SUMMER, 1909 retreats -- GER: A Mun (R) Bor; TUR: NMR; GM (E) Retreating F Smy.

SUMMER, 1909 Propaganda -- Italy -- France: Well?

Germany -- Italy: Well, what are you going to do now? You take your choice; if you go away from me, I'll help any way I can; if you attack me, I'll donate everything I can to the others. We will have a hard time winning, but you and I can create a perfect stalemate if we coordinate things; as a last resort, I'm game, and I'll let you approve any move in advance that you wish. Suggest, O Mighty One.

Italy -- Germany: Thanks for the support; maybe you could support me there.

Russia -- Anyone: Three armies for rent. Price: Survival. First offer will be accepted. Preferably with winning country.

Deadline for FALL, 1909 moves & Prop. -- Noon, Tues., Aug. 5.

TUR -- ~~Ank~~, Con, Smy, Bul, Rum, Bud, Gre, Ser (stands pat). (7)

Propaganda -- Italy -- The GM is really Rod Walker! And I am...?

Italy -- Whatever it is that you don't like about me, dear Russia, please keep it under 20 pages.

France -- The French Emperor, fresh from the prison where he had been held this past season, announced to the French populace and the peoples of the world that he had just recently purchased a piece of real estate which he planned on using for his summer estate, and would require small amounts of assistance to build there since the estate is in Ankara.

Turkey -- France: You have bit the bull by something it doesn't even have!

Turkey -- Italy: Do you really feel you can trust an ally who destroys your fleets and advises you to order your armies to hold in a position that prohibits defense of your own centers? Do you think you will keep Tunis as your own with three French fleets on hand to take it away? At least defend yourself from both of us.

GM Note -- This game now falls under DIPLOMANIA House-Rules. Dick Reiter, remember that, under our H-R's, General Orders, once used, must be replaced.

Deadline for W'03 builds/removals -- Noon, Tues., August 5. (Deadline for receipt)

DHG (Microdiplomacy) -- CLARK WINS MICRODIPLOMACY DHG!

AUTUMN, 1909 retreats -- FRA (Clark): T Bal (R) Bot; RUS (Prosnitz): T Don (R) Swe. Units now on board: FRANCE 45, RUS 29, TUR 15, and FRANCE WINS! This is Frank's first win in either Regular or Variant Diplomacy. S.Ctr. chart, etc. in DPMA 26.
